Professional Summary

I am a 2nd year Computer Science student at Addis Ababa University with practical experience in building responsive web apps with React and TypeScript. Love embedding AI capabilities in front-end user experiences through API integration. Currently expanding into full-stack development. Combines clean component architecture, modern styling with Tailwind CSS and intuitive UI/UX to create interactive, AIEd products. Seeking an opportunity to innovate, collaborate and contribute to AI-powered developer efforts with the Claude Campus program
